Tories kick up big stink over blitz on tramps

PEOPLE should not be arrested just because they smell, a Cabinet minister has said amid a rebellion over Government plans to tackle tramps.

Asked whether people should be arrested for having an "excessive odour" Education Secretary Gillian Keegan said: "People should not be arrested just if they smell, but of course what we will be doing is considering any legislation."

Saying homelessness is not "a lifestyle choice", as former home secretary Suella Braverman had claimed, Ms Keegan added: "I guess the word is 'excessive' and I don't know what they mean by that."

More than 40 Tory MPs are expected to revolt against plans in the Criminal Justice Bill which would allow the police to fine or move on "nuisance" rough sleepers.

House prices slide by 0.2%

THE average UK house price fell by 0.2% month on month in March, although there are signs that activity is picking up, according to a report.

Values increased by 1.6% annually, taking the average UK house price to £261,142, Nationwide Building Society said.

Robert Gardner, Nationwide's chief economist, said: "Activity has picked up but remains relatively subdued by historic standards."

"For example, the number of mortgages approved in January was around 15% below pre-pandemic levels."

Harry Potter author takes on SNP loons... RISHI BACKS JK ROWLING 'HATE CRIME' STAND

SUPPORT: Sunak

PRIME Minister Rishi Sunak has backed JK Rowling after she dared police to arrest her under the SNP's new hate crime laws.

As the legislation came into force in Scotland, the Harry Potter author issued a flurry of social media posts declaring that a string of trans women were men.

The 58-year-old writer's comments whipped up a social media storm and the Prime Minister entered the row, saying: "People should not be criminalised for stating simple facts on biology.

"We believe in free speech in this country, and Conservatives will always protect it."

The SNP's Hate Crime Act has been condemned amid fears it could be used for political purposes.

It introduces offences for threatening behaviour intended to stir up hatred, which had only applied to race, and includes a seven-year jail sentence.

Ms Rowling included

trans campaigners in her tweets, referring to them as women. But she ended the thread by saying: "April Fools! Obviously, the people mentioned in the above tweets aren't women at all, but men, every last one of them."

SNP MP Joanna Cherry said: "Pleased to see my good friend JK Rowling exercise her rights to freedom of speech and freedom of belief by tweeting in defence of women's rights."

Iran blames Israel after officers die

IRAN's Revolutionary Guards say seven officers have been killed in an Israeli strike on the Iranian consulate building in Syria capital Damascus.

Brig-Gen Mohammad Reza Zahedi, a senior commander of the elite Quds Force, and Brig-Gen Mohammad Hadi Haji-Rahimi, his deputy, were named among the dead.

Iran and Syria's governments condemned the attack, which destroyed a building next door to the Iranian embassy.

The Israeli military said it did not comment on foreign reports.

However, it has acknowledged carrying out hundreds of strikes on targets in Syria that it says are linked to Iran and allied armed groups which are armed, funded and trained by the Revolutionary Guards.

The Israeli strikes have reportedly been stepped up since the start of the war in Gaza in October last year, in response to cross-border attacks on northern Israel by Hezbollah and other Iran-backed groups in Lebanon and Syria.

Boy, 12, held for school shooting

A 13-YEAR-OLD boy has been arrested after one child was killed and two more wounded in a shooting at a school, in the Finnish city of Vantaa, police say.

Police say they responded to the incident at Viertola school in the Finnish city of Vantaa before 09:00 (06:00 GMT) on Tuesday and urged local residents to remain indoors.

The school has 800 students and 90 staff. In common with other Finnish schools, children had just returned to classes in Vantaa, north of the capital Helsinki, after the long Easter weekend.

The school has students aged seven to 15 of both primary and middle-school age on two separate sites.

HORROR: The car used by the killed aid workers

A BRITISH national was among seven aid workers killed in an Israeli air strike in Gaza, the World Central Kitchen (WCK) charity has said.

Seven aid workers from the UK, Australia, Poland, the US, Canada and Palestine were killed while in a deconflicted zone, WCK said in a statement.

The Foreign, Commonwealth & Development Office (FCDO) said it is "aware" of the report.

A spokesperson said: "We are aware of reports of the death of a British national in Gaza and are urgently seeking further information."

Education Secretary Gillian Keegan said the Government

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

is "very, very concerned". She said: "We haven't had it confirmed yet, but we are very, very concerned by the situation."

"We do know that we've urged Israel to do more to protect civilians, but also to allow aid to get into Gaza."

"But we haven't yet had this confirmed and I think the IDF are reviewing this, probably as we speak."

She added it was "worrying" that the charity World Central Kitchen had suspended its work in Gaza.

She said: "One of the key things is trying to ensure we get more aid into Gaza, so if one of the charities working on the ground has suspended, that's obviously deeply concerning."

Ms Keegan added: "Our thoughts would go to everybody affected."

The aid workers travelled in two armoured cars branded with the WCK logo and a soft-skin vehicle.

Attack

Despite co-ordinating WCK's moves with the Israeli Defence Force (IDF), the charity said the convoy was hit as it was leaving the Deir al-Balah warehouse, where the team had unloaded more than 100 tonnes of humanitarian food aid taken to Gaza on the maritime route.

WCK chief executive Erin Gore said in a statement: "This is not only an attack against WCK, this is an attack on humanitarian organisations showing up in the most dire of situations where food is being used as a weapon of war."

"This is unforgivable. I am heartbroken and appalled that we - World Central Kitchen and the world - lost beautiful lives because of a targeted attack by the IDF."

"The love they had for feeding people and the determination they embodied to show that humanity rises above all, and the impact they made in countless lives will forever be remembered and cherished."

The IDF says it is "carrying out an in-depth examination at the highest levels to understand the circumstances of this tragic incident".

UK FACTORIES BACK IN BLACK

THE UK's manufacturing sector returned to growth in March for the first time in 20 months as companies took in new orders and output increased.

Figures from the S&P Global/CIPS UK manufacturing PMI survey hit 50.3 in March, rising from 47.5 in February.

The score was slightly better than the 49.9 that economists had forecast according to a consensus supplied by Pantheon Macroeconomics.

Any score above 50 is considered to show that the sector is growing, and this is the first time since July 2022 that the PMI rose above that level.

"The end of the first quarter saw UK manufacturing recover from its recent doldrums," said Rob Dobson, director at S&P Intelligence.

"Production and new orders returned to growth, albeit only hesitantly, following year-long downturns, with the main thrust of the expansion coming from stronger domestic demand."

The survey found that there was still a "weak" trend in new exports. Production increased for the first time since February 2023, the survey said, helped by the consumer goods sector.

FILMING MUM'S LESBIAN SEX IS TOTALLY NORMAL

By ABBIE HAY

news@sundaysport.co.uk

LIZ Hurley's son says it felt 'normal' directing his mum in LESBIAN SEX scenes for his new movie.

Damian Hurley, 21, declared that he was unbothered directing his 58-year-old mum in the steamy scenes – so much so that they didn't have intimacy co-ordinators on set of Strictly Confidential.

Intimacy

Damian insisted that while it may appear 'strange' to regular people, for those who have grown up in movies as celebrity offspring, it is routine.

Speaking about filming his mother's racy scenes, he admitted: "I hate to say that it felt totally normal. I don't know what that says about us.

KEEPING IT IN THE FAMILY:
Liz and Damian

"I was speaking to a lot of my friends who are also second generation of parents in the industry.

"They say exactly the same thing – that things to outsiders that may seem totally strange, for us we'll just have grown up with in everyday life."

Damian added that there was no need for intimacy co-ordinators on set, saying 'everyone was very comfortable'.

He added that Liz taught him about sex when he was 'ludicrously young', insisting that it is a 'beautiful and natural' act, but banning him from watching violence in films.

The mother and son's relationship raised eyebrows in the past, especially after Liz revealed the secret photographer behind her seemingly endless stream of bikini Instagram posts was in fact, Damian.

One willy does the job for Gwynnie

IT'S just one dick at a time for Hollywood star and wellness guru Gwyneth Paltrow.

During an Instagram Q&A with followers, Gwynnie, 51, was asked: "Have you ever considered a poly relationship?"

Polyamory is defined as the practice of engaging in multiple romantic relationships.

"No thanks!" Paltrow responded in AMA (Ask Me Anything) on her Instagram stories.

The Academy award-winner added, "Not for me but have no judgment. I'm a one man kinda gal."

She married TV writer and producer, Brad Falchuk, in 2018 after dating for four years. They met on the set of Glee in 2010.

Paltrow and Martin, the lead singer of Coldplay, were married 10 years and have two children together, Apple and Moses, but announced their separation as a "conscious uncoupling" in 2014.

Plane crashes into walkers

TWO people on a walk in the country were seriously injured when a PLANE dropped onto them.

The pair were out for a stroll when a light aircraft fell from the sky near Delaware County Airport in Muncie, Indiana.

Police chief Jeff Stanley said it's unclear if the pedestrians were struck by the falling plane or by debris as the plane collided into the treeline surrounding the walking path.

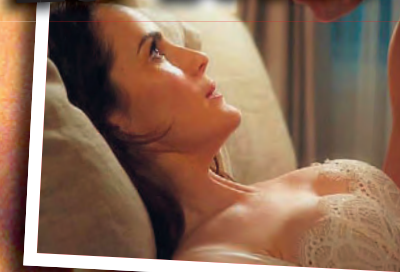

The pilot, who officials said was also seriously hurt, was reported to be the only person on board.

STAR OF BBC'S NEW DRAMA IS TOPLESS...

PRAISE: Michelle in This Town

This Town Michelle shows us her boobs

TAKE the 1981 Birmingham riots, the IRA and the man who brought us Peaky Blinders – and there's a BBC hit in the offing.

Although some found it "a bit weird" other viewers have been full of praise for the broadcaster's latest drama This Town.

Created by Peaky Blinders writer Steven Knight, the series focuses on a group of people orbiting a burgeoning music scene in 1980s Birmingham amid a backdrop of social unrest.

The cast includes Levi Brown, Jordan Bolger, Ben Rose, Eve Austin, Michelle Dockery and Nicholas Pinnock.

The series has been well received by critics and viewers alike, with plaudits being lavished on the show's recreation of the time period and its jukebox soundtrack.

However, fans have complained about the authenticity of the Birmingham accents being deployed by various members of the show's cast.

"This Town living up to expectations. Been class so far (apart from some of the accents)," one viewer wrote.

Even if you're not fan of the show, you will enjoy looking at star Michelle Dockery's busters.

FLASHER'S WIFE HAD SEX WITH GREAT DANE

BUSTED: William Keen and wife Joely

A FLASHER who walked around a shop furiously masturbating got his wife arrested for GREAT DANE sex!

Cops were called to the store where it was reported an adult man, now identified as William Keen, was wandering around the store performing the sexual act.

Keen was arrested and later charged with indecency by exposure. His phone was taken into evidence and a search warrant was executed.

On the phone, police found a video of Keen's wife, Joely Keen, engaging in various sexual acts with the couple's Great Dane dog.

Cops then searched the Keen's house and arrested the couple at their home in Montgomery County, Texas.

Concerning

Joely Keen was charged with bestiality.

The Great Dane seen in the video, along with two other dogs, were rescued from the home to avoid further sexual exploitation.

The couple's two children were also taken into care.

Police spokesman Ken Washington said: "It's not normal!"

"In the 20-plus years I've been doing this job, it doesn't cease to amaze me. Something comes up every now and again when you are investigating a crime.

"So when these detectives were going through this investigation, and they find the images and the video and the sexual acts – that's extremely concerning. But then you see an animal involved, which makes this particularly odd.

"We don't know what kind of environment the children were exposed to on a regular basis.

"Maybe they weren't exposed to anything. Maybe they were exposed to a lot."

Packham: I hated my teen self

ANNOYING Chris Packham has said he "loathed himself" and thought he was "broken" as a teenager before he understood he had autism.

The irritating Springwatch presenter, 62, was only diagnosed at the age of 44 after he dated a healthcare professional, and said he struggled in his teens to understand why he was different.

Climate change pest Packham said: "I grew up in the Sixties and Seventies when the condition wasn't widely known, certainly by my parents and teachers."

"So by the time I'd got to the beginning of my teens, and certainly into the early part of my 20s, my mental health issues were quite considerable."

"I loathed myself, I thought that I was broken. Clearly, I was in a lesser cohort than most other people, so I blamed myself for everything that was going wrong."

Speaking about the lengthy waiting times young people face for an autism diagnosis, the aggravating animal expert said: "Young people can't be in that position, if they're going to find a fulfilling life, we need to put them on a firm foundation of confidence and support, and the diagnosis should be an access to that type of support."

Cops nab paedo suspect after 27 years on the run

AN 80-year-old man has been arrested at an airport after 27 years on the run, police have said.

Richard Burrows, who is accused of historic sexual abuse of children, was arrested at Heathrow after returning to the UK from Thailand, a spokesman for Cheshire Police said.

He has been wanted since December 1997 when he failed to attend Chester Crown Court to face trial for two counts of buggery and 11 counts of indecent assault.

The charges relate to alleged abuse between 1969 and 1971, reported to have taken place at a children's home in Congleton, Cheshire, and in the West Midlands.

Detective Inspector Eleanor Atkinson, from Cheshire Police, said: "Our determination to locate Burrows has not faltered over the past 27 years and his arrest marks a significant step forward in this case."

"No matter how long you hide, we will find you and you will be arrested."

But Sewell, 56, was keen to stress that it's not his naked bum that viewers will be seeing.

"Not that I'm ashamed of my own," he said, adding: "I get it out when I get the chance! But this bum was specially shipped in!"

Comforting

The scene comes just after the father-of-two sat down to watch the car crash interview which saw his time as one of the most senior working members of the Royal Family come to an end.

Rufus went on to tell Radio Times: "He steps away feeling he could just have it on in the background. To him, it's the comforting sound of him winning through."

Air force major sues over sex attack...

HOTEL BURGLAR SUCKED ME OFF

ACCUSED: Peay and the Marriott hotel

By NELSON SAUVIN
news@sundaysport.co.uk

AN Air Force major is suing a hotel chain after he woke up in one of their rooms to find a burglar SUCKING HIM OFF!

The victim is not identified in the complaint, although he has named his accused assailant as Jermaine Lamont Peay, 28.

According to the 16-page complaint, the alleged assault took place at the Marriott Hotel in Charlotte, North Carolina.

Police confirm Peay was arrested and charged with larceny, burglary first degree, second degree forcible sex offence and larceny after breaking and entering.

Thrasing

The victim alleges he was on his way to Orlando, Florida, for Air Force training when he was caught in Charlotte due cancelled flights.

With permission from his superiors to return home to Mississippi, the man said he was racing to return to his family "in time to attend a father-daughter dance at his church."

Further last-minute cancellations forced the plaintiff to book a room in Charlotte Marriott.

The plaintiff said the hotel was near a "large homeless population" and that he was bothered by beggars even before he got inside.

The victim says this proved it was reasonably foreseeable that a guest may be assaulted and that Marriott should have known to keep its property more secure.

The plaintiff says Peay had previously trespassed at the hotel and was known to burglar or assault guests.

The plaintiff says when he retired to his room, "the self-closing and self-locking door to his room" did not properly latch shut or lock.

According to the complaint, it was "in the early hours" when the victim was "woken up to an assailant performing oral sex on him without his consent."

"The assailant, Jermaine Peay, had put the plaintiff's penis in his mouth while he slept, and had been violently thrashing his head up and down with the victim's penis in his mouth."

After the scuffle, the plaintiff says Peay fled with his wallet and phone as well as a pair of pants and a shirt.

Suing for negligence, deceptive trade practices, he seeks combined punitive and compensatory damages of $160 million (£127million).

Cop zapped with own tazer while arresting naked woman

IT all went tits up for a cop who went to arrest a naked woman causing a kerfuffle.

The cop found the woman in Shreveport, Louisiana, and tried to arrest her – but a scuffle ensued.

In the tussle, the woman grabbed the cop's taser and zapped him.

A security guard nearby saw what was happening and shot the naked woman with his service weapon.

Both the woman and the officer were taken to a hospital with non-life-threatening injuries.

A police source said: "Needless to say, the officer has come in for a bit of ribbing over this."

MANIAC IN SCREAM MASK KILLED HIS NEIGHBOUR WITH A CHAINSAW

A 30-YEAR-OLD man wore a Scream mask as he butchered his neighbour with a CHAINSAW in the middle of the afternoon.

Zak Russel Moyer (right) was taken into custody and charged with one count of criminal homicide in the slaying of 59-year-old Edward Whitehead Jr.

Assailant

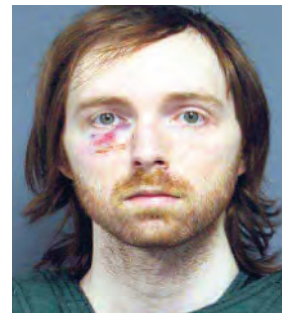

Cops raced to an address in Lehighton, Pennsylvania, after a report of an assault in which the victim was being attacked by an assailant wielding a knife and a chainsaw.

Whitehead had been "struck with a chainsaw and a knife in the head by a male who was observed on surveillance video footage," said cops.

The assailant, who was described as a man "wearing a mask and a black costume-like garment consistent with the Scream movie character," then exited the back door of Whitehead's home.

Officers were able to track the alleged killer back to Moyer's home, which is next door to the victim.

Moyer communicated with cops outside using a notebook he held up to his window, writing messages alleging that

By ABBIE HAY

news@sundaysport.co.uk

Whitehead had recently committed several crimes.

The handwritten sign reportedly read, "Ed murdered women and kids. Eddie Junior murdered women and kids last summer."

Police said there is no evidence that Whitehead had committed any crimes.

After brief talks, Moyer was taken into custody without incident.

He allegedly admitted that he had donned the costume and went to Whitehead's home with a knife and chainsaw "for the purpose of scaring him," but later confessed he went to the home with the intention of killing his neighbour.

Additionally, Moyer allegedly admitted that after the killing, he went home and hid the knife and chainsaw, then put on a movie as he waited for the police to arrive.

Moyer is currently being held in the Carbon County Jail.

Naked nicker in car chase

A NAKED woman in a stolen car led cops TWO high-speed chases.

Cops first spotted Jasmine Denae Lorona, 31, driving a stolen Chevy in Arroyo Grande, California.

They chased her, before calling off the pursuit over public safety concerns.

Later that day, cops were called to a house where Lorona was behaving "erratically" before she drove away.

"The vehicle then exited onto Highway 41 and was driving into oncoming traffic with its headlights turned off," detectives said.

Cops laid a stinger to stop the vehicle. When Lorona exited the car, she was naked and yelling at the cops.

MISS SHAGGED PUPIL 10 TIMES

A TEACHER has been caged for 90 days after she shagged a pupil ten times.

Lillie Bowman, 24, also got five years of probation after she admitted third-degree sexual abuse by a school employee at court in Lincoln, Nebraska.

She is also required to register as a sex offender. The jail sentence will be served 30 days at a time. She was ordered to appear at the Lancaster County Jail on April 5 in 2024, 2025 and 2026.

Bowman was initially charged with first-degree sexual abuse by a school employee.

But that charge was amended after she entered a plea deal with prosecutors.

On May 19 last year, Bowman was arrested after "concerned parents" led cops to investigate a relationship between her and a 17-year-old male student at Norris High School.

The Lancaster County Sheriff's Office said English teacher Bowman began a relationship with the student in March of last year.

#MY SEX FANTASY

'I'm pure filth – it's all about the sex...'

I LOVE the idea of being a call girl – a high class one of cause, darling!

Obviously, I don't want to sell my body, but I do like role play.

It feels so naughty getting dressed up all sexy and behaving like a whore.

Think Julia Roberts in Pretty Woman – she looked so hot in her thigh-high PVC boots.

I love to get dressed up to the nines and wear a really short, slutty mini-skirt... and, of course, suspenders and stockings.

A realistic wig always adds to the look, too!

Role play gives you the chance to act out a naughty side of your character.

I just love meeting my boyfriend in a hotel bar and pretending that he's a client.

I get a kick out of people staring over at us, checking out my slutty outfit and wondering if I'm a prostitute.

Then we go up to the hotel room and, of course, I insist he hands over my money first.

Then I'm pure filth – because it's all about sex.

And he must get his money's worth!

Naked prof waved willy at CCTV camera

A UNIVERSITY professor has been nicked for waving his dick at his neighbours' security camera.

Police said Dr Brian Nagy, Professor of Management at Tennessee State Uni in Nashville, was seen pulling his pants down and revealing himself to his neighbour's security camera at 1am on March 14.

Dr Nagy was captured yelling profanities at the camera, requesting his neighbours look at his exposed self, according to the arrest affidavit.

Police said he walked out of camera view before reappearing and revealing himself again – this time from behind.

He returned an hour later, exposing himself for a third time.

He was also caught presenting his middle finger to the camera with his pants down.

The affidavit said he was fully nude during his final display, with only a sock to cover himself.

Dr Nagy was charged with indecent exposure and stalking.

Fact me!

Rats will laugh out loud if you tickle them!

Pair of pitbulls destroyed car to attack cat

TWO devil dogs tore apart a CAR trying to get at a cat that had hidden in the motor's engine compartment.

Owner Christie Barr was shocked when she woke up to see her vehicle torn up with an estimated $3,000 (£2,400) in repairs.

"I thought somebody had maybe taken a gun and shot my car," Christie, of Jacksonville, Florida, said.

She called cops and investigators poring through security camera footage found the four-legged culprits.

Video showed two grey pitbull-style dogs tearing off the car's front tire and otherwise attacking the vehicle.

"If they can do that to metal on a car, they'd tear a human being up," Christie worried.

The cat survived.

PLAYBOY BABE'S PRISON BRIBE BID GOES TITS-UP

PRETTY BLATANT: Schwartz tried to bribe an agent

LOVER: Huntzinger

By MILES PLATTING news@sundaysport.co.uk

A PLAYBOY model has been charged with bribery after she tried to pay an official to get her lover out of jail.

Shannon Teresa Marie Schwartz allegedly offered to pay a federal agent to convince a judge to let her boyfriend out on bail while he awaits trial on ammunition charges.

Schwartz allegedly offered £4,000 to a special agent to secure the supervised release of her boyfriend, Billy Wilhelm Huntzinger, from Honolulu's Federal Detention Center, in the US state of Hawaii.

Huntzinger is charged with being in possession of 205 rounds of ammo and a stash of crystal meth.

Honolulu police arrested Huntzinger following a report that he was seen knocking on the door of a house with a gun tucked into his belt.

Services

Police found an AR-15-style 'ghost gun', 200 rounds of ammunition, a grenade pin and around 115 grams of a white substance believed to be crystal meth as well as five grams of a substance believed to be cocaine.

The bribery allegations emerged after a special agent claimed he received 'missed calls, texts and voicemails from Schwartz'.

'I can help with whatever you need $ not sure what your services cost...' she allegedly texted on February 22.

Eventually the agent agreed to meet and texted Schwartz on March 1 that he needed to use his personal mobile to communicate with her but used an under-cover government device.

The pair met at a Starbucks where Schwartz allegedly offered to pay the agent for his help.

She agreed to give the agent a 'good faith' payment upfront and the rest upon Huntzinger's release.

She was later nicked and charged with bribery and obstruction of justice.

Numbers

NEW GERMANY SHIRT IS REICH OUT OF ORDER

By NELSON SAUVIN
news@sundaysport.co.uk

FOOTBALL fans have been banned from buying German football kits customised with the number 44, after media raised their resemblance to the symbol used by World War Two-era Nazi SS units.

"We will block personalisation of the jerseys," a spokesman for shirt maker Adidas said. SS units were the most responsible for the crimes against humanity committed by the Nazis.

The symbolism issue was first raised by historian Michael König, who said the design of the kits was "very questionable".

The SS rune was designed in 1929 for use by the Nazi units.

Members of the SS ranged from Gestapo agents to concentration camp guards. SS duties included administering death camps where millions of Jews and others were put to death.

Symbolism

Adidas spokesman Oliver Brüggemann denied the kit's resemblance to the Nazi symbols was intentional.

"We as a company are committed to opposing xenophobia, anti-Semitism, violence and hatred in every form," he said.

In a post on Twitter, the DFB said the shirt designs had been submitted to UEFA for review during the design process and that "none of the parties involved saw any proximity to Nazi symbolism".

They added that an alternative design for the number 44 would be developed.

The same kit has met additional controversy for its choice of bright pink as the away colour.

Supporters say the colour represents the country's diversity.

But critics claim it is untraditional and has been introduced to raise money for the DFB.

Adidas has supplied German jerseys since the 1950s.

But a decision by the DFB to drop the German company in favour of American giant Nike as the manufacturer of German football kits from 2027 has been blasted for lacking "patriotism" by German Minister Robert Habeck.

Germany will host this year's European Football Championship, which will be held in 10 different cities.

Sydney to use her weapons in sexy flick

SYDNEY Sweeney has revealed her excitement at "using sex as a weapon" when she stars in a remake of Barbarella.

The 26-year-old actress will play the title role originally performed by Jane Fonda in the sci-fi flick's original in 1968.

Sydney is used to stripping off on camera, having starred in teen Netflix drama Euphoria.

Soon, she'll be using that experience when she stars as space-travelling Barbarella, which begins with a nude scene.

The protagonist then beds several men as she battles scientist Durand Durand, who has devised a weapon to wipe out humanity.

Sydney, who is also an executive producer: "Barbarella is such a fun character to explore. She embraces her femininity and sexuality, and I love that."

"I've always wanted to do science-fiction. So we'll see what happens."

She continued: "She uses sex as a weapon and I think that's such an interesting way into the sci-fi world."

Cops snare stalker aged just NINE!

COPS served a restraining order on a boy aged NINE – after he was accused of stalking a female classmate.

Sheriff officials served the student at Horace Mann Elementary School in Oklahoma, after Judge Tracy McDaniel signed off on the order petitioned by the girl's mother.

Undersheriff for Pottawatomie County, Travis Dinwiddie, explained that their office ensured the boy's family was notified before serving him during school.

"We served it there because that was the address that was put on the petition by the court... It's ordered by the courts. And so we have to serve that as officers of the court," Dinwiddie said.

Dinwiddie explained the department was only doing their job and following a lawful order.

However, the victim protective order being served to the boy during school was a bit harsh for the boy's family.

"I'm shocked because he's nine years old being served by sheriffs at school," Lavonne McCoy, grandmother of the lad.

Teacher's hubby was away on hunting trip MISS DODGES JAIL FOR SEX WITH TEEN LAD

SOBBED:
McKenna
Kindred apologised for affair

By ABBIE HAY news@sundaysport.co.uk

A HIGH school teacher was spared jail after having sex with a 17-year-old schoolboy behind her husband's back.

McKenna Kindred, 25, must now register as a sex offender for the next 10 years after she pled guilty to first-degree sexual misconduct and inappropriate communication with a minor.

In court, Kindred openly sobbed as she apologised to the victim and his family for her crimes. She said she was 'deeply ashamed' of what she had done.

"I am truly sorry for my actions," Kindred said. "I know that this past year has been enormously stressful for all involved."

"As a result of my actions I've lost my career, friendships, freedoms and have let down countless people who placed their trust in me."

"My mental health has also been severely affected by this event. I am deeply ashamed of the pain I have caused."

Family members of the victim could be seen wiping away tears during the hearing.

Evidence detailed how the lad came round to her house and had sex while husband Kyle was out of town on a hunting trip.

Classmates of the teen at Central Valley High School in Spokane Valley, Washington state, came forward to tell how he was inappropriately messaging Kindred via Instagram.

Kindred also reported to administration how she was being harassed on social media, accusing her of a sexual relationship with a student that she denied.

Detectives never found any photos 'that appeared overtly sexual in nature' but there were messages referring to masturbation.

The teen, who was interviewed by police at his home, said how he had started messaging Kindred in June 2022. He also admitted to police that he had gone to Kindred's house where they had sex.

He also admitted to sharing explicit pictures and videos with her.

The teen's mother delivered an impact statement in court in which she told how her son's life had been irreparably harmed by what happened.

"A light he used to carry has been dimmed," she said.

Although the age of consent in Washington State is 16, adults can be charged if they have sex with children in their care, up to the age of 18.

Kindred was sentenced to 24 months' probation and $700 (£554) in fines and fees.

Rihanna went X-RATED after sharing a raunchy new collection of lingerie snaps on Instagram.

The singer and entrepreneur showed off her curves while promoting her very own Savage Signature Script collection of bras, underwear, teddies and sleep tops.

Rihanna, 36, looked typically stunning as she showcased the new range, available through her Savage x Fenty website.

A fan said: "I certainly need some new undies – as I've made a mess in these, looking at those snaps!"

Swap Messages, Pictures & Videos with Gorgeous Girls!

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Dani,

MY pub pool team is breaking up and I'm worried that I'll lose touch with one of my star players, who just happens to be a blonde stunna with a gorgeous arse.

She is a borderline nymphomaniac and had regularly been letting me pot her in both holes after our matches.

The problem is that I'm married and the missus is getting suspicious.

I've had to keep my cue in my trousers and rarely get the chance to play with my balls.

What can I do?

PT, Manchester

Dani says...

TRY chalking up a few shags with the missus instead.

Dear Dani,

I'M a 58-year-old fella and I live in a block of flats where my neighbours are mostly middle-aged divorced women.

Two of them are really fit and last week the three of us decided to have a couple of ciders at my place.

One thing led to another and I ended up mounting one from behind as I played with the other one, before then swapping over.

Then I climbed on one in the missionary position and gave her a proper ride, before doing the same with her pal.

Now one of my lovers has suggested they both move into my flat.

It's tempting, from the sex angle, but I like being free and single.

What do you think?

FG, email

Dani says...

WHATEVER you decide, just keep bonking – it will keep you all young and fit!

Hotel job brings me lots of sex and tips!

Dear Dani,

I'VE been working as a porter for some time in a big city hotel and my pals are always taking the piss out of me.

But I love my job, and here's the reason why.

In my first week I shagged a gorgeous American visitor whose bags I took up to her room.

She told me to close the door and then asked if I found her attractive.

I said yes and she led me to the bed, undressed and told me to take her from behind.

So there I was, at work, with my cock sliding in and out of her, while my mates were working and not having anywhere near as much fun!

After we'd finished, she gave me a £50 tip and told me there was more if I 'looked after her' during her stay.

I've had quite a few guests since and I'm not only coining it in but getting more shags and blowjobs than you can shake a stick at.

I was thinking about looking for another job, but I'd miss the sex and tips!

What shall I do?

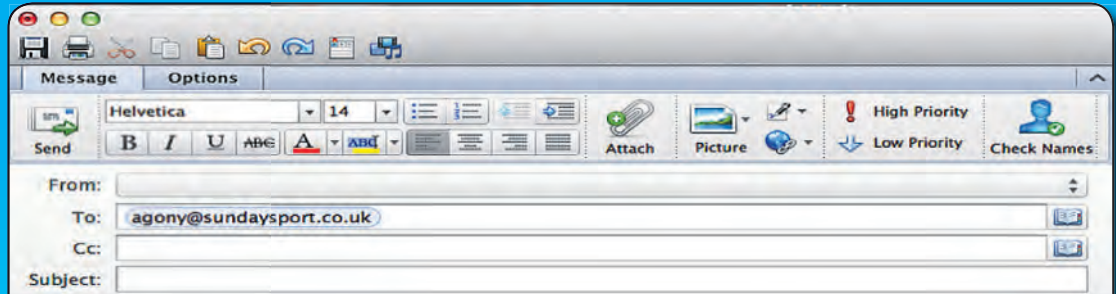

DE, Birmingham

Dani says...

IT'S a no-brainer. Stay put and carry on shagging!

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week DANI MAYE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Horny babe helped me get back in sex saddle

Dear Dani,

I'M a 48-year-old businessman and I've lived on my own since my missus left me two years ago.

I'm not a bad looker and I keep myself reasonably fit at the gym.

But obviously two years is a long time to go without any sex – and a man can only have so many wanks in a day before feeling the need for some proper physical contact.

So I stopped feeling sorry for myself and decided to do something about it.

I had a plan and started revisiting all my old haunts in the hunt for totty.

Amazingly, I soon met a gorgeous girl in her late 30s in a bar I used to go to and we hit it off straight away.

After a few drinks she began blatantly rubbing her hand up and down my leg and I was shocked to discover how forward girls have become since I've been off the social scene.

Not that I was complaining.

She made it plain she was up for it, so I wasted no time in asking her back to my place.

She had her hands all over me in the taxi, feeling the bulge in my trousers, and I couldn't wait to get her inside.

Munching

She wasn't interested in any kind of small talk and I had barely closed the door behind us when she locked lips and began snogging me.

She was a great kisser too, as she took my tongue, enfolded it in hers and sucked for all she was worth.

I couldn't wait any longer. I managed to disentangle myself and led her to my bedroom, where she tore off my clothes and began munching greedily on my prick.

Within a few minutes we were shagging each other silly and I managed to keep going for quite a while.

We ended up doing each other in every position I've ever seen in sex manuals and in my massive collection of porn DVDs.

The problem is that I'm not as flexible as I was and ended up pulling a muscle, which has temporarily put me out of any bedroom action.

I'm worried that I might lose the little minx if I can't keep up with her.

What do you think?

JS, Merseyside

Dani says...

GET yourself as fit as possible as quickly as possible. She sounds too good to lose.

Dear Dani,

I'M a 19-year-old fella who is going out with a gorgeous girl the same age as me.

She is 5ft 9ins and athletic, with a really great body.

The trouble is she won't let me shag her because she says my cock is way too big. It's 11 inches on the bonk.

Anyway, last week she invited me to stay over at her place.

Well, it's not hers, she still lives with her mum and dad, so though I hoped she might relent, I didn't expect to get the chance to give her one.

I was lying awake in the small hours in the spare bedroom, playing with my cock, when the door inched open and someone crept in.

The next thing I know I felt a pair of lips wrap around my stiff meat.

I was just about to blow my load when she twisted round and pushed her sopping wet pussy on my dick, taking every inch inside her.

I was in heaven as she rode me and I soon came inside her.

When the bedside light got switched on, it was my girlfriend's mum!

I've boned her a few times since but I wonder how my girl would feel if she found out.

What do you think?

AJ, south Wales

Dani says...

NOT too pleased, I reckon.

Fiance's 'no anal, no wedding' shock

Dear Dani,

MY fiance has just told me that he doesn't love me any more – just two weeks before our wedding.

I'm absolutely devastated. I never saw this coming and I thought that everything was going great until the other night.

Then, when we were in bed having a good time, he asked me to get on my hands and knees for doggy-style sex.

No problem there. We've done this loads of times and I quite like it – but this time he asked to put his pinkie into my botty!

I was really shocked, and I have to admit a little disgusted too, and I let him know I wasn't up for it.

Horrible

He was in a bit of a mood after that and he even said a few horrible things to me before we went to sleep without kissing each other goodnight.

The next morning when I woke up he was not in bed with me and there was no sign of him anywhere in the house.

And there was another shock waiting for me when I got downstairs.

He had left a note on the kitchen table saying if I wasn't prepared to let him have anal sex in the future, then he doesn't want to marry me.

What should I do?

LB, Essex

Dani says...

IF he's that much of a prat, you're better off without him.

SEXY Saskia Jade has been gripped by the BBC drama The Dropout. The 32C cracker, from Camberwell in south London, said: "It's a brilliant show about the rise and fall of medical fraudster Elizabeth Holmes in the US. "Star of the show is gorgeous Amanda Seyfried, who went bare in the movie about porn star Linda Lovelace. "It's really gripping and a true story as well."

WHERE REAL BABES SNAP THEMSELVES!

THIS is it...the only newspaper feature where REAL BABES show their boobs!

Self-shooting topless pics is a craze that's sweeping the country – but you don't need a swanky new smartphone to enjoy 'em – as we'll be printing the pick of the snaps EVERY week!

SEND US YOUR SELF-SHOTS!
selfshot@sundaysport.co.uk

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

WELCOME to the interactive Midweek Sport—where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see — TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. This service — UNIQUE to British newspapers — is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

AMANDA DAWKINS

ELECTRICIAN Ian Warner begged us for a picture of his fave glamour girl, Amanda Dawkins.

The 53-year-old, from Stockport, Greater Manchester, sent us an email asking for a busty picture of Amanda.

It's easy to see why Ian has the hots for the Essex beauty, from Colchester.

He said: "She's so fit. I love a good boob and Amanda's 32Ds are the perfect handful."

"I'd love to cop a good feel!"

AVA DALUSH

BETTING shop manager Gavin Holliday knows where he'd put his money if he had to bet on the best boobs.

Gavin, 63, from Swansea, reckons there's no one out there who can match Ava Delush's 32D sweater stretchers.

He doesn't only think Ava, from Camden, north London, has the best boobs in the UK but the best rack in the world.

Gavin said: "If they did an award for the most perfect boobs in the world, I'd happily put a grand on Ava nabbing the gong."

LOUISE PAYNE

BINMAN Corey Noble spotted an old pic of Louise Payne while emptying the bins – and he's been hooked on her ever since.

The 33-year-old, from Croydon, was on his rounds when he saw a topless beauty sticking out of the trash.

He picked up Louise, from Basildon, Essex, from a bin and he's been entranced by her 32Es since then.

Corey said: "I saw a pair of boobs in one person's bin and took it out."

"It was Louise. She's stunning, but I want another picture to stare at – please could I see one?"

EARLY YEARS

■ Born: May 22, 1946, Belfast, Northern Ireland
 ■ Discovery: Spotted by Manchester United scout Bob Bishop at 15 years of age.

MANCHESTER UNITED

(1963-1974)

■ Debut: At 17, made his first-team debut for Manchester United against West Bromwich Albion in 1963.
 ■ Peak: Played a pivotal role in Manchester United winning the European Cup in 1968, scoring a memorable goal in the final against Benfica.
 ■ Awarded the European Footballer of the Year in 1968.
 ■ Stats: Scored 137 goals in 361 appearances for Manchester United.
 ■ Honours: Division One title in 1965 and 1967; European Cup 1968; Charity Shield in 1965 and 1967.

NORTHERN IRELAND

■ Earned 37 caps and scored 9 goals. Despite his personal success, he never played in a FIFA World Cup tournament. He did play a large role in Northern Ireland winning the Home International tournament in 1964 – just two years before England won the World Cup.

LATER CAREER

After leaving Manchester United, Best played for several clubs around the world, including:
 ■ North America: Los Angeles Aztecs, Fort Lauderdale Strikers, San Jose Earthquakes (North American Soccer League)
 ■ England: Fulham, Dunstable Town, Stockport County, Bournemouth
 ■ Scotland: Hibernian
 ■ Australia: Brisbane Lions
 ■ Other countries: Played in South Africa, Hong Kong, and Ireland among others.
 ■ His career in the later years was marked by brief and less impactful spells at various clubs around the world.

STYLE OF PLAY

■ Renowned for his dribbling skills, Best was one of the first players to bring a sense of showmanship to English football. His ability to beat defenders with his agility and skill made him a crowd favorite.
 ■ Best was versatile in attacking positions but mostly played as a winger.
 ■ His flair, vision, and goal-scoring ability made him a football icon.

LEGACY

■ Best is remembered as one of the greatest talents in football, not only for his on-field performances but also for being football's first celebrity.
 He left a lasting legacy at Manchester United, with his style of play influencing generations of footballers.
 ■ Tributes include a statue at Windsor Park, Belfast, and naming the Belfast City Airport after him, reflecting his iconic status in Northern Ireland and beyond.

THE LIFE OF A TRUE

SIMPLY THE BEST!

EURO STAR: Celebrating Man United's 1968 European Cup win with Matt Busby and Paddy Crerand

Manchester United legend was so good he has an airport named in his honour

By PAUL THOMAS

GEORGE Best, often hailed as one of the most gifted footballers of his generation, if not of all time, lived a life as dazzling off the pitch as it was on it.

Born on May 22, 1946, in Belfast, Northern Ireland, Best's footballing talent was apparent from an early age.

His story is one of extraordinary talent, celebrated triumphs, and personal demons that he battled until his death on November 25, 2005.

Best's career began at Manchester United, where he was scouted at the tender age of 15.

By 17, he made his first-team debut, and it wasn't long before he was captivating audiences with his dribbling skills, footballing intelligence, and scoring ability. His flair and athleticism brought him to the pinnacle of European football; he was instrumental in Manchester United's European Cup victory in 1968, scoring a memorable goal in the final against Benfica.

That same year, he was awarded the Ballon d'Or, cementing his place among footballing royalty.

Off the pitch, Best became the first celebrity footballer, dubbed the "Fifth Beatle" for his stylish hair and charismatic presence.

However, with fame came the trappings of celebrity life, and Best became as well known for his off-field exploits as for his footballing genius.

His love for nightlife, fast cars, and beautiful women was as much a part of his legend as his footballing skills. Unfortunately, this lifestyle began to take a toll on his career and personal life.

Best's battle with alcoholism is well-documented.

The pressure of fame, combined with his natural predisposition to addiction, led to a decline in his professional performance and personal well-being.

Despite attempts to control his drinking, Best's alcoholism affected his health severely, leading to multiple liver transplants and health issues later in life.

Despite his struggles, Best's contribution to football cannot be overstated.

His natural talent, vision, and ability to score from almost anywhere on the pitch left fans and players in awe.

He was a pioneer for attacking football, inspiring countless players with his agility, precision, and creativity. His legacy is not only in the goals he scored or the matches he won but in the way he played the game – with a joy and freedom that embodied the pure essence of football.

Best's career after Manchester United saw him play for several clubs around the world, including stints in the United States, South Africa, and Australia.

Although these years were marked by a decline in his professional performance, they underscored Best's love for the game, his desire to play football regardless of the stage.

Unfortunately, the toll of his lifestyle became increasingly evident. His health deteriorated, leading to his premature death at the age of 59. In his last public message, Best warned of the dangers of alcoholism, a poignant reminder of his long battle with the disease.

George Best remains a complex

THE LEGEND ON AND OFF THE PITCH

BELFAST BOY: Best was idolised on both sides of the Irish Sea

figure in the world of football. His story is a cautionary tale of the pitfalls of fame and addiction but also a celebration of raw talent and footballing genius.

He left behind a legacy that continues to inspire and captivate. The beauty of his play, the brilliance of his goals, and the joy he brought to the game make him a legend, remembered not just for his challenges off the pitch but for the magic he created on it.

In the end, George Best will be remembered not just as a footballer who had it all but as a man who lived life on his own terms, for better or worse.

His legacy is etched not only in the annals of football history but in the hearts of those who saw him play, who remember not just the goals and the glory, but the joy and the sadness of a life lived to the fullest.

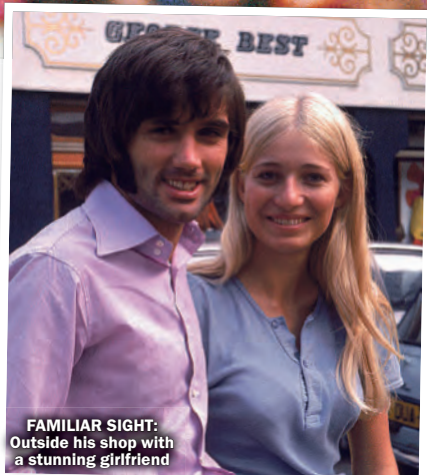

BEST ON BEST

Best humorously reflected on his lifestyle: "I spent a lot of money on booze, birds, and fast cars. The rest I just squandered".

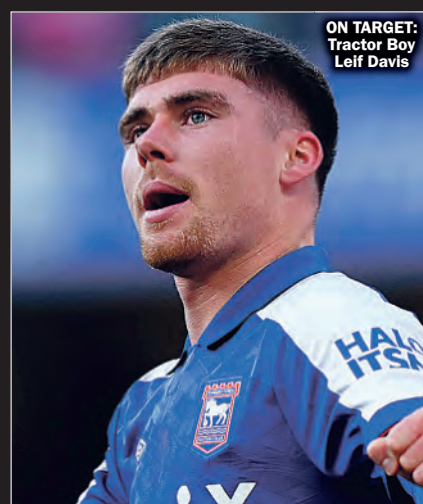

On the temptation and choices he faced: "If you'd given me the choice of going out and beating four men and smashing a goal in from thirty yards against Liverpool or going to bed with Miss World, it would have been a difficult choice. Luckily, I had both".

Best also had a self-deprecating sense of humour about his lifelong struggles with drinking – famously quipping about it: "I've finally stopped drinking, but only while I'm asleep".

Reflecting on his physical appearance and its impact on his fame, he said, "If I'd been born ugly, you'd never have heard of Pele".

Championship title race hits crucial stage

THE Championship continues to head towards one of the most dramatic finishes in its history as the division's three leading teams show no sign of slowing down.

With the Easter programme completed, Ipswich are a point clear of Leeds in the two promotion spots, with third-placed Leicester a further point back.

The relentless form of the trio raises the prospect of all three finishing with more than 100 points and here, Midweek Sport at how the race may play out.

■ IPSWICH TOWN (First, played 40, points 87)
■ Run-in: Norwich (a), Watford (h), Boro (h), Hull (a), Coventry (a), Huddersfield (h).

Two months ago Ipswich looked like they might be wobbling but, under intense pressure, they have stood up to the test.

Given their incredible form it is easy to forget this is their first season back in the Championship and, when they scored a winner in the seventh minute of added time against Southampton, back-to-back promotions felt closer than ever.

One worry boss Kieran McKenna may have is their defence and a derby against Norwich next up is clearly a huge game.

They will go into it with no fear, having lost just five times all season.

■ LEEDS (Second, played 40, points 86)
■ Run-in: Coventry (a), Sunderland (h), Blackburn (h), Middlesbrough (a), QPR (a), Southampton (h).

Daniel Farke's men remain unbeaten in the league in 2024 and unbeaten at home all season. A depleted side drew at Watford in the first game back after the international break, before a late show saw them beat Hull 3-1 on Monday. In Crysencio Summerville they have the division's outstanding player and, with his 17 goals and eight assists supplemented by

PRESSURE: Daniel Farke

Dan James' 20 goal involvements and Georginio Rutter's 21, they have attacking talents to burn. However, an injury to workhorse Ilia Gruev has exposed weaknesses, with Farke yet to find a way to replicate the fluidity he brings to Leeds' midfield. They need him back, with the same going for Wales full-back Connor Roberts and Italy forward Wilfried Gnonto.

■ LEICESTER (Third, played 39, points 85)
■ Run-in: Birmingham (h), Millwall (a), Plymouth (a), West Brom (h), Southampton (h), Preston (a), Blackburn (h).

Monday's win over Norwich was huge. They looked promoted two months ago and were 17 points ahead of Leeds at the turn of the year. However, a 3-1 loss at Elland Road wcame as part of a run of two wins in seven. Victory over the Canaries put them back top, before Ipswich and Leeds retaliated to send them back to third.

They have the benefit of a game in hand against Southampton which, with the Saints now looking out of the automatic race, may be less stressful than it could have been. Veteran Jamie Vardy continues to provide experience off the bench and that could come to the fore as the fixtures run down.

TOP TIPS FOR ALL TODAY'S RACING

GHOSTWRITER

JAYYASH HAS LOTS OF DASH

By MIKE FRANCIS

JAYYASH is the choice in the first division of the Unibet More Boosts In More Races Maiden Stakes at Kempton.

A €420,000 breeze-up buy, he found subsequent Group Two winner Ghostwriter a tough test on debut and the Goddens then gave him plenty of time before returning him to action last month.

An odds-on favourite at Southwell, he had to give best to Federal Envoy by a neck but the run should have brought him along nicely, with this move up to a mile expected to suit.

Screaming Eagle can take the second division after making huge strides between his first two runs.

Hint

After beating just one horse home on his initial run at Sandown back in September, Screaming Eagle went on to finish a short-head second over seven furlongs at the Sunbury venue in October.

Andrew Balding moves him up to a mile here, which looks a wise move given Screaming Eagle's pedigree suggests he will stay further than that in time.

Godolphin hold the key to the Unibet Zero% Mission Fillies' Novice Stakes but Winter Snowfall is the pick

JOHN GOSDEN

Classic prospect by his connections and while Rogue Encore is also entered in the 2000 Guineas, he is double the price of Inisherin.

Nevertheless, the Kodiak colt looks more than capable of winning a race like this.

Eye Of Dubai can build on the promise he showed last year with victory in the Visit Racingtv.com Novice Stakes at Catterick.

The son of Havana Grey had two juvenile starts in 2023 and suffered the agony of a neck defeat on both occasions, firstly at Chester in September and then at Redcar in October.

Charge

Eye Of Dubai fluffed his start on the Roodee, which meant he was under pressure from the off so his second place to a more experienced rival offered much hope and he was sent off the evens favourite for his next start.

He travelled supremely well at Redcar but deep ground perhaps just found him out with the line in sight. With that in mind another winter on his back will have benefitted John and Sean Quinn's charge.

Artistic Mission has endured a slightly frustrating run of three successive second places but he can snap that sequence in the racingtv.com Handicap.

An initial novice fifth back in November proved a decent springboard, with the Classic-entered Champagne Prince simply too good for Artistic Mission next time. Karl Burke then tried a visor in Artistic Mission's final novice start, but that did not have the desired effect as he hung to be beaten just under two lengths by Roman Emperor, who performed with credit on All-Weather Finals Day last week.

The handicapper allotted a mark of 74 for Artistic Mission's debut in that sphere and it was a fair run without the visor, though he was no match for Sergeant Wilko and has been eased 1lb since, which might help his cause.

Sir Maxi has been running consistently throughout the winter and can transfer that form to the turf in the Download Race Day Ready Today Handicap.

Richard Fahey's charge won once and placed three times on the all-weather since November but he lines up here off a mark of 70 having been rated 5lb higher at Christmas.

That is 1lb lower than his last winning mark and his narrow third at Newcastle last month shows that to be a thoroughly competitive perch.

SELECTIONS

CATTERICK: 1.55 Strox, 2.25 Big Blue Boy, 2.55 Lexington Hero, 3.25 EYE OF DUBAI (NAP), 3.55 Sir Maxi, 4.27 Artistic Mission, 5.00 Impressor.
KEMPTON: 4.50 JAYYASH (NAP), 5.25 Screaming Eagle, 6.00 Winter Snowfall, 6.30 Rogue Encore, 7.00 Kiwano, 7.30 Miss Moonshine, 8.00 Whiteley Way, 8.30 Waldora.

Ben calls time on T20s to stay fit

STOKES FOCUSES ON TESTS

NO MORE T20: Ben Stokes

BEN Stokes has ruled himself out of selection for England's T20 World Cup title defence as he prioritises being a fully-fledged all-rounder in the Test side this summer.

When put on the spot last month about whether he would be on hand for the tournament in the Caribbean and United States in June, England's Test captain admitted he had "not even thought about that but I'm available".

It is understood he has had no setback after briefly returning to bowling last month during England's Test tour of India and there is no lingering discomfort in his left knee following surgery in November.

However, Stokes is intent on playing a full role with bat and ball in England's six

CRICKET By NED TRUEMAN

Tests this summer, the first of which starts on July 10, less than two weeks after the T20 World Cup final.

A busy summer schedule has led to Stokes following up his withdrawal from the Indian Premier League with pulling out of the T20 World Cup in a major blow for white-ball skipper Jos Buttler and head coach Matthew Mott.

Sacrifice

"I'm working hard and focusing on building my bowling fitness back up to fulfil a full role as an all-rounder in all formats of cricket," he said.

"Opting out of the IPL and the World Cup will hopefully be a sacrifice that allows me to be the all-rounder I want to be for the foreseeable future."

"The recent Test tour of India highlighted how far behind I was from a bowling point of view after my knee surgery and nine months without bowling. I'm looking forward to playing for Durham in the County Championship before the start of our Test summer.

BLOW: Buttler

"I wish Jos, Motty and all the team the best of luck in defending our title."

Stokes was instrumental in England's 2022 triumph in Australia, dragging them into the knockout rounds with an unbeaten 42 on a sticky pitch against Sri Lanka in Sydney and his 52 not out – his first half-century in the format – sealed the victory over Pakistan in the final at the Melbourne Cricket Ground.

Delivery

That was the most recent of his 43 T20 international appearances, but he would have been a surefire selection in England's 15-strong squad.

Stokes delayed an operation on a long-standing left knee issue to feature at last year's 50-over World Cup, where England endured a humiliating group-stage exit after winning just three of nine matches.

After going under the knife at the back end of last year, Stokes was an ever-present in England's 4-1 defeat in India although he sent down only five overs – all of them in the last Test.

He bowled India captain Rohit Sharma with his first competitive delivery in eight months and is continuing to build up his loads ahead of featuring for Durham in the next few weeks in the Vitality County Championship.

England play three Tests apiece against the West Indies and Sri Lanka this summer before winter tours to Pakistan and New Zealand. A marquee 2025 follows, with a five-Test series against India at home in the summer followed by the Ashes in Australia in the winter.

Four T20s against Pakistan start on May 20 before the Group stage of the World Cup kicks off with England playing Scotland on June 4 at the Kensington Oval in Barbados.

UNITED MOVE FOR SAINT JASON

MANCHESTER United have made an official approach to hire Southampton director of football Jason Wilcox.

Ineos recently took charge of football operations at Old Trafford as part of the deal that saw Sir Jim Ratcliffe become minority owner of the Premier League club.

United are looking to hire Newcastle sporting director Dan Ashworth, who has been placed on garden leave, and negotiations are also under way to bring in Wilcox.

The 53-year-old joined Championship

By ANDY MILLOM

Southampton as director of football from Man City last summer, having worked up to the role of academy director during 11 years at the Premier League club.

Wilcox is now subject of an approach from United, although compensation terms are a sticking point.

The Red Devils have offered compensation of a year's salary but Southampton want a bigger package.

United want Wilcox in place for the summer and are hoping for an amicable outcome.

A report emerged during Southampton's match against Ipswich on Monday evening that he has resigned, which would mean serving a 12-month notice period before he could take up a new role.

Wilcox is understood to have a good relationship with incoming United chief executive Omar Berrada from their time together at City.

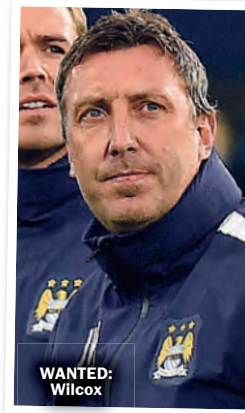

Manager Russell Martin was asked about the formal approach for Wilcox in the press conference following Southampton's stoppage-time 3-2 defeat at Portman Road.

"I would say give me at least 10 minutes to get over the disappointment of tonight and we'll chat at some point this week and I'm sure I'll have more for you," he said.

"I've not spoken to the club (about it). You know my feelings on Jason, and I'll have a chat with him after."

"I've just had a text saying how proud he was of the performance. The rest is, once I'm told I'll let you know."

MIDWEEK SPORT LOOKS AT WHEN

SQUEAKY BUM TIME IS HERE!

Into the home stretch and it's still everything to play for at the top!

MANCHESTER City manager Pep Guardiola admitted the Premier League title race is "not in our hands" after a goalless draw against Arsenal on Sunday.

With just nine games left in the season, City sit one point behind Arsenal and three adrift of leaders Liverpool, who Guardiola conferred as favourites to end his side's streak of three successive titles.

Here, Midweek Sport looks at how the title race is shaping up.

WHAT HAPPENED OVER THE WEEKEND?

Liverpool moved into pole position as they bid to give Jurgen Klopp the perfect send-off by coming from a goal behind to beat Brighton 2-1.

The Merseysiders were boosted a few hours later by a bore draw at the Etihad Stadium. Arsenal were at the summit prior to the latest round of fixtures but would have been the happier of the two teams after nullifying City's attackers.

Guardiola said: "Always who is first is favourite. The second favourite is Arsenal and we're third."

WAS GUARDIOLA CORRECT?

Maybe, although that was far from him waving the white flag in their attempt at a historic fourth league title in a row – Huddersfield, Arsenal, Liverpool and Manchester United have also had a hat-trick of successive crowns but no team has yet done a quadruple.

City will likely have to be close to perfect if they are to pip Liverpool and Arsenal but they have a history of being strong finishers.

At the same stage last season, City were five points adrift of Arsenal but managed to reel them in then overtake them.

ARE THERE ANY DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THEN AND NOW?

Last season, City still had Arsenal to play and triumphed 4-1 at home before the Gunners fell away at the business end.

This time, City can win all nine remaining fixtures and still lose out because they have already played Liverpool and Arsenal twice.

Liverpool have been the biggest thorn in City's side in the Guardiola era, relegating them to second spot in 2019-20, remarkably their only slip-up in six seasons.

SO ALL LIVERPOOL HAVE TO DO IS WIN THEIR REMAINING GAMES?

It would be a major surprise if it turned out simple as that – and that is not a slur on Liverpool's ability to hold their nerve as they have proved their mettle time and again under Klopp.

But the pressure will continue to build and there are a few tricky fixtures, including visits to north-west rivals Manchester United on Sunday and Everton on April 24.

City next face Villa – the last side to beat them – on Wednesday while both Guardiola's team and Mikel Arteta's Arsenal still have to go to Tottenham between now and the end of the campaign.

All three teams are still in the hunt for European crowns, too – City and Arsenal in the Champions League and Liverpool in the Europa League – and this may be a distracting factor as well.

SO THERE ARE STILL PLENTY OF TWISTS AND TURNS TO COME, THEN?

In all likelihood, yes. Liverpool have the edge but they

Ange: We'll be right in title race next year

ANGE Postecoglou expects Tottenham to be in the Premier League title race in 12 months' time.

Spurs had hit the league summit in November, before a spate of injuries sparked an inconsistent winter period.

The north London club are now 11 points off leaders Liverpool and battling for Champions League qualification with Aston Villa.

Postecoglou has repeatedly insisted a top-four finish is not the priority this season. He is instead more focused on the development and improvement of his young squad.

Asked whether he expects Spurs to be challenging for the title next term, Postecoglou replied: "I hope so. Or why am I doing what I'm doing? That's why I came to the club."

"As somebody said to me last week, 'Just do your job Ange' and my job is to come here and try to bring success."

"And if you don't think you're going to be in the title race in 12 months' time, then I don't know why I'm here."

The former Celtic boss also doubled down on his Champions League qualification claims.

He once more pointed to the examples of Manchester United and Newcastle, who were third and fourth respectively last season, as teams that did not kick on after finishing in the top four.

"It'd probably make my life easier if I said, 'Let's make Champions League, that's great' because everyone thinks I've done a great job," Postecoglou said.

"But from my perspective, I keep saying it, I look at the teams who made the Champions League this year from last year and that wasn't the catalyst for them kicking on."

"It's not their fault - it's more demanding. But I'm not going to let this club rest on where we finish this year."

"Where we finish should be a foundation for us being better next year."

Last weekend marked Spurs' first home match since the club announced planned ticketing changes which will result in senior concession season tickets no longer being available from the 2025-26 season.

A group called 'Save Our Seniors' was formed last month as a result, and staged a protest where fans turned their backs on the action during the 65th minute of Saturday's 2-1 win over Luton.

"I think my constant position on this is that the fans have a voice," Postecoglou said.

"And they should be able to use that voice in any manner they find appropriate, as long as it's not disruptive, as long as it's not to the detriment of the club in an overall way."

"At the beginning at (my time at) Celtic, there was fan protests there. They have a voice and we've seen in the past when fans feel strongly about something."

have never had the threat of City breathing down their necks - the Reds were out of sight in 2020 when the crunch time came.

City have proved they enjoy being the hunters, even if they have not been firing on all cylinders, and Guardiola will surely not want Klopp to have the last laugh in their rivalry.

Arsenal cannot be discounted either and look a better team than the one that subsided last season, as evidenced by Sunday's stalemate after a thrashing by City 12 months ago.

In short, a dramatic finale looms.

At the bottom end of the Premier League, Nuno Espirito Santo is refusing to take any credit for Nottingham Forest striker Chris Wood's recent run of form in front of goal.

Wood's equaliser in Saturday's

1-1 draw with Palace was the New Zealander's seventh goal in eight league games - a run which has coincided with Nuno's arrival at the City Ground.

The Portuguese manager enjoyed a fruitful working relationship with Raul Jimenez at Wolves, but insisted it was all about the players themselves.

"I think it's not my credit," Nuno said. "It's all about them, their characteristics are more important than anything that surrounds these kinds of players. The quality of Chris is different from Raul."

"But as long as Chris is on the pitch we trust him so much that he's going to deliver for us. He's a fantastic professional. We've got to keep him healthy, to help him and for sure he's going to give us a big hand."

Wood was able to play against

Palace after shaking off the minor injury he suffered against Luton before the break, but the 32-year-old had missed eight games after suffering a hamstring issue in late January.

Nuno is eager to keep his target man fit as Forest fight against the threat of relegation.

"We need to look after all the players," Nuno said. "Chris is one of those cases. We look at all of the players the same way, but you cannot be afraid something is going to happen. If you don't work you lose shape, so it's a balance we have to find."

Forest went into last night's match against Fulham out of the bottom three on goal difference, level on points with Luton after being docked four by the Premier League for breaching financial rules - a penalty the club has appealed against

HOOPS KEEN TO GET MAC BACK

JOHN Kennedy is excited about the lift Celtic could get if Callum McGregor declares himself fit for Sunday's top-of-the-table showdown with Rangers.

The Hoops captain missed all four of his team's matches in March with an Achilles issue.

Celtic hope to welcome McGregor back to training this week, with a view to him being involved at Ibrox on Sunday. Assistant boss Kennedy believes that would be hugely beneficial for Brendan Rodgers' side as they prepare to face a Gers side who trail them by a point but have a game in hand.

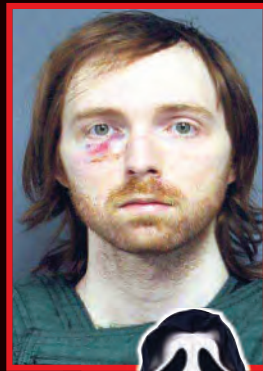

"He's the captain, the leader of the group, everyone turns to him," he said. "Hopefully Cal will be back in training in the middle of the week then the manager will decide later if he's fit to play."

"Coming into this run-in, when you start to get all your players back, it makes us stronger. You can sense that. It gives us more belief and momentum."

ART OF WINNING

Gunners boss up for 'beautiful' part of season

MIKEL Arteta accepts Arsenal may have to win their nine remaining Premier League fixtures to be crowned champions as he prepares for the "most beautiful part of the season".

ahead of a hectic April following Sunday's dogged goalless draw at title rivals Manchester City.

Manager Arteta, who also has a two-legged Champions League quarter-final against Bayern Munich to consider, wants his players to embrace the challenge, beginning tonight at home to relegation-threatened Luton. "It's going to have to be really close to that," he replied when asked if Arsenal need a 100 per cent record from now on to finish top of the table.

"When you see the level and the consistency of the other teams and historically what is needed to win in this league, it's not going to be very far from that."

"This is where we want to be as a club."

"Now we want to take this opportunity and make it happen."

"We worked every single day with that enthusiasm and passion to make it happen and enjoying the moment as well."

"I see the team really flowing and they are really excited about playing each game and that has to drive this energy until the end."

"I am full of energy and it's the most beautiful part of the season."
